COMMISSION

ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE PLANNER/ANALYST

Metropolitan Transportation Commission (MTC)

San Francisco, California

Salary: $96,884.74 - $141,662.98 Annually

Be ready to rethink your assumptions about the public sector. Flexible hours? Flexible work location? A beautiful, well-located, high amenity building for on-site work? Yes, yes, and yes! For more information about MTC, visit www.mtc.ca.gov.

Working as part of the Major Plans team in the Regional Planning Program section, the Assistant/Associate Planner/Analyst will lead planning analyses and projects related to performance and equity in the fields of transportation, housing, economic development, and environmental resilience. Most notably, the Assistant/Associate Planner/Analyst will conduct performance and equity analyses for Plan Bay Area 2050+, a minor update to the regional long-range plan, starting in mid-2023. The Assistant/Associate Planner/Analyst is also envisioned to support the re-envisioning of Equity Priority Communities, a geographical framework to understand the equity impacts of MTC's investments and policies.

A Bachelor's degree in an appropriate field related, such as transportation planning, city and regional planning; transportation engineering or modeling, financial management, economics, business or public administration. A Master's degree is desirable.

One year of increasingly responsible experience in an appropriate field related to the area of assignment, such as transportation planning, city and regional planning; transportation engineering or modeling, financial management, economics, business or public administration.
