

ENGINEERING DESIGNER I (FACILITIES DRAFTING)

East Bay Municipal Utility District (EBMUD)

$104,292 - $126,768 Annually

Engineering Designer I is the entry level classification in the Engineering Designer series. This position will perform the more routine tasks and duties, including designing less complex facilities and pipeline systems. Individuals can advance to Engineering Designer II after gaining experience and achieving proficiency which meets the requirements for the Engineering Designer II classification.

Engineering Designer I's in the Specifications & Engineering Support Section of the Engineering Services Division work closely with Engineering Designer II's, project managers, project engineers, the Facility Drafting Supervisor, surveyors, facility and pipeline drafters, and other technical and administrative personnel. Major responsibilities require the use of initiative, independent judgment, critical thinking and interactions with a variety of personnel throughout East Bay Municipal Utility District.

Requirements: 1. Completion of the twelfth grade or its equivalent; AND 2. Experience in any or a combination of designing, drafting, mapping, or field recording of pipeline, facilities, or water/wastewater treatment system installations; or one year as a crew worker installing or maintaining underground pipelines, facilities, or water/wastewater treatment systems; or some experience as a member of a pipeline location survey crew operating surveying instruments or water/wastewater system inspection. 3. Possession of a valid California driver's license and satisfactory driving record.

Additional Requirements: Must be able to work outdoors in a variety of weather conditions; must possess physical characteristics to perform the critical and important duties of the job, including sufficient agility to climb hills and traverse rough terrain, and must be willing to work overtime as needed.

Submit a completed EBMUD application and the required supplemental question responses online at <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/ebmud> by 4:30 p.m., Friday, February 2, 2024.